OLD ABE, THE VETERAN.

DEATH OF THE WAR EAGLE WHOSE NAME WILL BE FAMOUS IN HISTORIES OF THE WAR.

"Old Abe," the famous war eagle of Wisconsin, whose name is known to almost every man, woman, and child in the United States, died Mar. 26. The telegraph announced his death, but the Wisconsin State Journal has some interesting incidents in his eventful life.

HIS DEATH—HOW IT CAME ABOUT.

The severe weather of the past few months has obliged the keeper, George Gillies, to keep his charge closely confined, much to the latter's disgust, who plead hard and constantly to be allowed to take the air. A week ago Saturday night, the old bird was as well as ever; Sunday he refused food, although the most tempting viands were spread before him. Through the week medical skill was applied, but by Friday he showed serious lung difficulties, and went into spasms. Saturday afternoon, at 4:30 o'clock, in the presence of Quartermaster General George E Bryant, "Old Abe" passed away, while in the arms of his keeper. All that could have been done for a human being had been done, and his loss was as deeply felt as though a valued human public servant had gone to the hereafter. The remains are to be stuffed by Major C. G. Mayers, and deposited in the State Historical rooms—duly encased in glass, and the record of his battles emblazoned on a neighboring shield. The old soldiers at first wanted the veteran buried at Forest Hill, with an appropriate monument reared over his bones, but this plan was finally given up, on the assurance that the remains could be kept for any length of time, in the manner first suggested.

CAPTURE OF THE BIRD.

In July or early August, 1861, a young Indian, about twenty-five years of age, named A-ge-mah-we-ge-zhig (Chief Sky), one of the Lake Flambeau band of Chippewas, captured two young eagles from a nest on the bluffs of the Flambeau rapids, 70 miles from the river mouth, and about 125 miles from the Eau Claire. Chief Sky and another Indian cut the tree down, amid the menaces of the parent birds; the nest—as "big as a washtub, made of sticks, turf and weeds,"—they preserved; one of the fledglings died, and the other, Chief Sky nursed, as a plaything for the papooses at the Indian village. A few weeks after, while en route to Chippewa Falls and Eau Claire, the eagle-captor sold his pet to one Daniel McCann, for a bushel of corn. McCann tried to sell the bird to a company forming at the Falls for the First Wisconsin Battery; upon their failing to buy it, he proceeded to Eau Claire, where a company, organizing for the Eighth Infantry, became the purchasers for $2 50. This was in August, 1861, when the eaglet, a true American specimen, was about two months old.

The bird, duly decorated with a rosette, and made much of by the Eau Claire ladies, departed for Madison with Captain John E. Perkins' company, Sept. 6. The eagle commenced to act nobly on his perch, and before arrival at the capital became a veritable pet. At LaCrosse, en route, there was considerable enthusiasm over the war bird, and at Madison the eagle company was received with great eclat, the State Journal of Sept. 10, 1861, thus announcing the event:

"An incident occurred yesterday as the Chippewa company arrived at Camp Randall. They bore in advance of them a platform on which was a live eagle, surmounted by a small American flag. Just as they entered camp the eagle expanded his wings and seized the flag in his beak. The incident attracted much attention, and if it had happened in other days in a Roman camp, would have been regarded by the augurs as a singularly favorable omen."

A FARM OFFERED FOR THE BIRD.

At Chicago, on the way to the front—Oct 12—there was another ovation, the entire regiment now enjoying the honor of being the eagle-bearers. The city papers of the time were enthusiastic over the living symbol of the nation's greatness. At St. Louis "Old Abe," as he had been named, after the President, escaped, and the final capture on the top of a chimney was witnessed by shouting thousands. Here Secretary Cameron and General Thomas complimented the Eighth on their pet, and one enthusiastic Illinoisan offered a farm for the bird, but Captain Perkins' rejoinder that "No money can buy him," became proverbial. From here the Eagle regiment went on to the front, and they and their bird participated in the following notable engagements and skirmishes:

THE BATTLES HE WAS IN.

1861—Fredericktown, Mo., Oct. 21.

1862—Siege of New Madrid and Island No. 10, Mo., March and April; Point Pleasant, Mo., March 20; Farmington, Miss., May 9, Before Corinth, Miss., May 28; Iuka, Miss., Sept. 12; Burnsville, Miss., Sept. 13; Iuka, Miss., Sept. 16-18; Corinth, Miss., Oct. 3, 4; Tallahatchie, Miss., Dec. 2.

ANECDOTES OF THE BIRD.

Numerous stories are told of "Old Abe" in connection with the engagements in which he figured. He always sat on his perch undisturbed by any noise or tumult, the impersonation of haughty defiance. He shared all the long marches of his regiment, including Sherman's great raid and the campaign up Red River, and passed through a great number of battles, in which he once or twice had some of his feathers shot away and his wings pierced, but never received a scratch from a rebel bullet sufficient to draw blood; he bore several scars however, and his old comrades could always recognize him by those. At Vicksburg "Old Abe" was literally amid shot and shell, and acted like a true hero.

Meanwhile, the eagle clinched his claws fast to the grooves of his perch, and, standing under the proud colors, bent his head, soldier-like, on a listening angle, his fierce eyes reflecting the glare of the battle, his wings outstretched, his voice heard, as oft before, cheering his compatriots to the shock for conquest.

BITTERLY HATED BY THE REBELS.

The eagle became as bitterly hated in the Southern lines as he was beloved by the Union army, and many attempts were made to capture him, but in vain. He was always at the front, under close fire, and often appeared like an inspired being. In dress parade he would frequently seize the colors in his beak and pose like the typical bird on the National seal, and was always doing the right thing in the right place.

Well scarred by service, and almost deified by the entire army, "Old Abe" returned home on a furlough with his now world-famous regiment, and was again in the Capitol Park at Madison on the 22d of June, 1864. He was received with a royal welcome, and the company again went to the front with the eagle and participated in the battle of Hurricane Creek, where the bird screamed at the fore throughout the rapid charge and nerved "the boys" on to many a glorious deed.

The bearers again arrived at Madison, Sept. 22, 1864, and "Old Abe" was formally transferred to the State, with official ceremonies and amid the plaudits of a large multitude. He has ever since been kept, with a care and devotion highly creditable to the patriotic sentiment of successive administrations, as an honored and inspiring memento of the Eighth Regiment, and the times in which it fought the battles of the Nation with the true and strong men who rallied around the flag.

ON EXHIBITION.

As a civilian, "Old Abe" has been doing constant duty as a "relic," and it is computed that he has earned $80 000 for the various charitable institutions which have had him on exhibition. He always liked to be admired, and gave unmistaken evidences of his enjoyment. In 1865 he was a feature of the Northwest Sanitary Fair in Chicago, where the quills which he occasionally shed were eagerly bought for $5 each. The same year he held forth as the chief attraction at the Milwaukee Soldiers' Home Fair, where his pictures were sold by the thousands. In 1866 he was at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention at Pittsburg; and in the Wisconsin campaign that fall, held forth in several political torch-light processions; he helped dedicate the soldiers' monument at Peoria, Ill., in October. In 1868, "Old Abe" was at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention at Chicago. At this time, soldiers' reunions became common throughout the West, and his presence at such gatherings was always considered as essential as the old flag itself. In 1870, he signalized himself at the Army of the Tennessee re-union in Madison; in 1875, at the Grand Army re-union in Chicago, and throughout the Centennial he was a leading character, admired by the people of all nationalities.

SINCE THE CENTENNIAL

he has been at a Geneva Lake festival, the great reunion at Newark, Ohio, the Minnesota State fair, soldiers' reunions at Durand, Menomonee, Richland Centre, Mazomanie, Milwaukee, Aurora, Ill., Rockford, Ill., Stanton and Columbus, Ohio, and at Decoration Day ceremonies and miscellaneous fairs without end. In the winter of 1878 9 he occupied a prominent position in the Old South Church fair in Boston, and all New England fairly went wild over him.

Statesmen, poets, editors, warriors, and men and women of all professions have paid their tributes to "Old Abe," the world over, and his pictures have been sold as freely in Europe as in this country. No other "war relic," in all history, has had anything like the fame awarded to the grand old soldier bird of Wisconsin. His loss to the State is a genuine one, for he has perhaps tended more than any other one thing in it, to make Wisconsin known abroad. And thousands of veterans will drop genuine tears on hearing the news.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The Journal says: There are now twenty-one prisoners in the county jail, in Auburn. The jail population has been small for the last three months. There is only one woman in the lot, and that is "Dolly" Gray's widow, who went over, the other day, for rum-selling. Previous to her arrival, there had been no female in the jail for several months. Mrs. "Dolly" now presides over the jail laundry. She washes the prisoner's shirts and stockings, sews on buttons, does darning, etc. Last winter, there was an unusually large force of women in the county's workshop, and they made up a stock of bed ticking, socks, etc., enough to last some time. There is not much loafing done inside the jail-walls. Stowell, who was sent down from Franklin county to board for two years, for rapping a man on the head with a hatchet, has the double reputation of being the longest termer and the most incorrigible "rester," in the jail. Chandler, the Minot man, who is held for trial on the charge of committing a revolting crime, reported a few days ago, has so changed in appearance that when he comes to the bar of the Supreme Court, the coming term, no one who saw him in Judge Dresser's court, will recognize him. The transformation has been brought about by cutting his hair, soaking the tobacco juice out of his beard, and a judicious and liberal application of soap and water to his person.

Cumberland.

Monday, a Biddeford policeman visited Undertaker Rich's shop, and identified the body of the man found drowned, Sunday afternoon, at Portland, as a Frenchman named Duclos. The officer said the dead man was one of a gang of thieves, for whose arrest he had a warrant. Sunday morning one of the gang was arrested, which gave the alarm to Duclos, and he fled. The officer was on his track, and would have arrested him Monday, had he lived.

The Argus says that Messrs. Geo. E. Deering & Co, have lately established themselves at No. 7 Long wharf, Portland, where they will carry on a canning factory of considerable dimensions. They have been in the business in Portland for five or six weeks only, although they have had factories elsewhere for the past ten months. They will employ at the factory in Portland some thirty or thirty-five men. They will manufacture all the cans to be used, having a tin shop in operation for that purpose. They intend to put up 200,000 cans of salt mackerel in Portland this season. Besides the factory in Portland they own a clam factory at Scarboro Beach. They put up 40,000 cans of clams and clam chowder there last winter, and during the coming season will greatly increase their business in this line. The firm is building a corn canning shop at South Waterboro. They will probably put up about 300,000 cans of corn there during the coming season, employing for this purpose about fifty hands.

The farmers of Westbrook met at school house hall, Pride's Corner, Saturday evening, April 2d, to form a stock company to raise and pack their own corn and tomatoes.

Franklin.

E. S. & J. Winter, are contemplating the erection of a corn canning factory in Kingfield the present spring. The farmers will give the enterprise what encouragement they can, as it opens a market for a new and profitable crop to them.

Hancock.

The house of Henry L. Lunt, in Ellsworth, was entirely consumed by fire on Saturday night last. But little of the contents were saved. The house was partially insured. On the family, which were in destitute circumstances, the loss falls very heavily.——The schooner Louisburg, of St. John, N. B., 64 tons, James H. Erb, master, went ashore the night of the 30th ult., near the entrance of Southwest Harbor, and will probably be a total loss. The crew were all saved, and it is thought that the most of the cargo will be. The captain lost all of his papers, but the vessel's register was picked up on Gott's Island and forwarded to the custom house at Southwest Harbor.

Kennebec.

At a meeting of the Oak Grove Cemetery, at Gardiner, Monday, Robert Thompson, Esq., advocated reserving all the money that was not absolutely required on the grounds until a sufficient fund was obtained to enable them to pay all expenses with the interest. No action was taken upon this matter and the meeting adjourned.

The Winthrop cheese factory will begin to run May 2d. It now looks as though people would take advantage of it this year, as cheese will probably bring a good price.

Hallowell Classical Academy is enjoying a year of gratifying prosperity. The attendance is larger than ever before, and still increasing. At the opening, March 30th, the large boarding house was full. Others who come will be provided for in excellent families. Rev. A. W. Burr, A. M., the popular principal, and his excellent corps of teachers, Mr. Nickerson, Miss Wilder, Sewall Gardiner and Allen are doing a noble work for the interests of advanced education in our State. Forty-six have graduated from the various departments in the last five years. Twenty-eight have entered college. A large graduating class will come to the front at the close of the present term. Nineteen from the classical department have entered Bowdoin College.

CARD.
To the Public
The PROMISED BIG SIGN is up, and flying, on Kenduskeag Bridge, over MR. N. KENNEY'S old and well established Meat Market, near the place where I sold my first fish in Bangor, thirty-five years ago this month, one week before the great flood drove me back, till the Market was rebuilt, then into it and at it again on the same Bridge; then driven by fire into Norombega Market. Had money then, left it with nothing. In connection with Mr Kenney, by honest and upright dealings, with all hopes to make something yet, I do most sincerely desire the patronage of all my old friends and customers in the City and country, and you shall be assured of getting as good meats as you want, and as nice fresh and salt fish in their season, as can be found in any other Market in the State.
All of which is most respectfully submitted.
CALL, MY FRIENDS, AND SEE ME.
Yours truly,
Maj. THOMAS BICKFORD.

THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES.

[From the Providence Journal.]

The Senate at its present special session has not done, is not doing, is not apparently likely to do speedily, the work whereunto it was called. The President had certain nominations to make, requiring the advice and consent of the Senate; in the furtherance of the public weal, as he understood, the Senate was invited in extra session, to attend to this part of its privilege and duty. But there was a preliminary question. Which party was to have the organization? It was secured to the Republicans by the aid of Senator Mahone, of Virginia. Naturally and parliamentarily would have followed the selection of the officials of the Senate by the party which had organized the Senate; but there are two reasons why the Democratic Senators oppose this; in the first place they demand that their appointees shall remain in office until December; and secondly, they are furious at the vote of Mahone. It will hardly be contested that the Republicans are entitled to the officials. The whole aspect of the debates, however, is of a larger character. The attacks made upon Senator Mahone by the Democrats have opened up the Southern question in its entirety; not alone as to what it has been, but further as to what it now is, and what is the political attitude of the South in its relations to the federal laws and their enforcement. In this view of it, the officers, and Mahone as well, are comparatively of little consequence. What is the prospect of a solid South in favor of and obedient to the fundamental law? That is an interrogatory addressed to the people of the United States, and one which they are vitally interested in.

We have already noticed in the briefest way the stand taken by Senator Hill, of Georgia, who professed the belief that there had been no political outrages in the South for which the Republican party was not responsible; and now Senator Lamar, of Mississippi, follows up the same line of thought and accusation. Speaking in the present time, he declared that the South was solid "for the defence and protection of its own civilization, its own society, its own religion." Protection against what and whom? Against the constitutionally deposited and honestly counted vote of the negro! Only this, and nothing more. Senator Lamar understands well enough that no rebellion by arms being renewed, there is not the slightest danger of any interference by the federal government with the autonomy of the States; when, therefore, he talks about a recurrence of the "carpet-bag governments," he means—can only mean—that if the negroes and Republican whites of any Southern State should acquire political control of the State, it would be deemed equivalent to the return of the governments under federal supervision. Senator Lamar insists that to permit the exercise of the right of franchise in the South, under and according to the terms of the constitution and the laws, would be to endanger the civilization, society and religion of the South; which is simply saying that the dominant influences in the South, including its religion, are opposed to the government and laws of the United States.

There is no disguising, and our Southern friends are not disposed to disguise the fact, that the civilization, political doctrine and religion of the South are based upon the idea of a "white man's government," upon the belief that the negro is not, never will be, capable of self-government, and that it is right and a duty to deprive him of his vote whenever it can not be controlled. That is the long and short of Southern civilization and religion. To that theory the North will never agree. It is not enamored of a negro citizenship including the right of suffrage; but the South compelled it, and the North means to make the best of it; and what it understands by the best, is the enforcement of the law in regard to it.

Whatever opinion one may entertain as to the waste of time in the Senate, it is clear that the Southern Democrats are solid as against a full vote, a free vote and an honest count in the South. Pitching into the debate after he had had a pretty full swing at it, Senator Hill, of Georgia, plainly put the Southern policy. He said that there was a coalition which purposed giving Virginia over to its lawful voters, and that the South would not submit to it. Here is a Democrat who undertakes to say that a given State shall not be politically governed by a majority of its voters; that in the South no State has the right to govern itself, but must submit to the dictation of the solid South. Virginia and the resolutions of '98 are no longer invoked as exemplars and teachers of State rights. When the Mother of Presidents promises to become Democratic, she is denounced as vigorously and indignantly as the Old Bay State.

MONEY AND BUSINESS.

[From the N. Y. Tribune].

The prediction that monetary stringency at the close of March would be averted by the liberal importations of gold has been justified by events. Even on the first day of April when some temporary disturbance is expected, no premium was paid for loans except by a few belated borrowers. During the past week, although the drain of money to the interior was unexpectedly large, there was not at any time real pressure in the loan market. Yet the banks must have sent out of the city a large amount of money, for their returns on Saturday showed no increase in specie, and a loss of $224,000 in legal tenders, although the Assay Office had paid out during the past week $4,056,389 in gold. Much of this was doubtless hidden by the system of "averages," and the condition of the banks as to reserve was evidently stronger at the close of the week than the statement indicated. In any case the possibility of inconvenient stringency is over for the season, according to the general belief, and those were the most fortunate who placed least faith in the gloomy vaticinations so common a month ago.

The immediate future of the money market will be influenced in some degree by the sales of five per cents, of which about $2,000,000 are already known to have been paid for at Washington. The call embraced $25,000,000, of which $5,739,800 appear to have been surrendered prior to April 1. As $2,000,000 more have now gone in, about $17,000,000 remain to be redeemed, of which it is reported that nearly $8,000,000 are in the Treasury, on deposit for circulation. Nevertheless, the amount yet to be taken is likely to be large enough, under the offer to pay 101 for the bonds called, to make the money market decidedly more easy. Besides, large payments are yet to be made by the Assay Office for gold already here; the amount of gold now afloat is estimated at over $4,000,000; and the money recently sent to the interior may soon be expected to return.

The imports last week were $9,613,811 against $11,503,695 for the corresponding week last year. On the other hand, produce exports continue to exceed those of last year; the cotton exports last week were 100,798 bales, against 71,121 for the corresponding week of 1880, and the course of prices during the week has not been such as to check the outward movement of breadstuffs. A strong speculative movement caused some advance in wheat at Chicago, but red winter No. 2 closed in this market scarcely higher than a week ago, and corn a little lower. In the absence of a speculative derangement of prices, a fair export demand for the leading products seems likely to continue. Prices in this country are low enough to tempt foreign dealers to increase their stocks, as a protection against possible failure of crops, there or here.

A snowstorm in Northern Ohio, lasting for eighty-six hours and extending into April, is only one of the extraordinary obstructions which have retarded spring trade. In the extreme Northwest floods followed the breaking of the long imprisonment by ice; in the Northeast it is still too early for spring business to manifest great activity; at the far South many dealers have already secured supplies. Hence there is not a little complaint of dulness in trade, and the delay causes the greater annoyance where producers or dealers anticipated a season of extraordinary activity, and prepared themselves by extraordinary production, purchases or importations. But the general condition of business is healthy; the people are prosperous and disposed to supply their wants freely; almost every branch of industry is expanding; and there is no monetary embarrassment, nor visible danger from speculative over-trading. When spring weather comes there is likely to be a time of great activity, which, on account of the lateness of the season and the great volume of business to be done, may be pushed further than usual into the summer.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

The engagement of Senator Pendleton's eldest daughter is announced.

Prince Gortschakoff, like his brother statesman, Lord Beaconsfield, now feels his age. He is still at Nice, unable to travel.

Since Colonel Thomas A. Scott's generous gifts to various institutions he has been overwhelmed with begging letters from all directions.

President Grevy has promised that France should be represented at Yorktown. He has expressed to General Noyes his interest in the marvellous expansion of the United States.

For the first time in several years the Democratic organs find cause for praising their Congressmen. The reason for it is that after numerous retreats they have at last made a stand on a few offices in the Senate.

M. Gustave Dore is feeling in the death of his mother his first great sorrow. They were devoted to each other, and it is said that it was for her sake that Dore has never married, preferring to give her sole command over his heart and his home.

Messrs. Hill, Lamar, Butler Hampton and Jones agree in denying that there was ever known in the South such a thing as a bulldozer, a tissue-ballot, a stuffed ballot-box, a rifle-club, a Mississippi plan, a political murder, or a Ku-Klux Klan. Why stop there? Why not go on and deny that there was ever a rebellion? Ben Hill should deny boldly at once that the South ever seceded, and denounce Carlyle as a "wicked, graceless and godless slanderer" for saying that there was once in this country a "beautiful digger agony."—While you are about it, gentle brigadiers, make a clean job of this denying business.—Tribune.

It provides that any citizen who loses his life while saving life or property at a fire, any physician who dies while laboring in a hospital in time of empidemic, or anyone who dies while trying to save a fellow-being, shall be regarded as a soldier slain on the battlefield, and insure a double pension to his family.

However that may be, this is his newest treatise, and can hardly be excelled for pithiness of explanation, ease and thoroughness. It does not attempt Counterpoint, or any of the higher problems of composition; but confines itself to those things that every organist, every good player, and every composer of "the people's music" ought to know.

AN INTERESTING STORY.—A HOPELESS CASE CURED.—A GOOD REASON FOR HAPPINESS.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's 'Favorite Remedy' which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public, that the 'Favorite Remedy' has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy,' as I did."

BY TELEGRAPH.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

Special Session of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 6.

The Vice-President laid before the Senate the unfinished business being resolution for the election of Senate officers.

Mr. McPhearson inquired why the Vice President had not, in compliance with the rules, called for the presentation of petitions and memorials. The Vice President replied that this being an executive session of the Senate there was no morning hour.

Mr. Ferry sustained the chair, declaring that the rule to which the Senator referred was applicable only to legislative sessions.

Mr. McPhearson then offered as his right under the rules the petition offered yesterday respecting the case of Michael Boynton and asked that it be referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations. The petition was received, read and referred as indicated.

A motion made by Mr. Pendleton for an executive session was rejected; yeas 30; nays 31.

Mr. Bayard took the floor. He believed that there was justification for the 38 Democratic Senators in maintaining the attitude before the country which they had maintained for the past ten days. He wished to try the justice of their position by the light of law and reason, so that when they were called before the bar of public opinion they should be willing to submit to it the case which they were making now.

After recounting various matters, such as nominations, etc., in abeyance by reason of the present action of the Senate, Mr. Bayard said, the Senator from Pennsylvania (Cameron) had stated that this question had in view the coming fall election in Virginia, that he (Bayard) asserted it to be a dangerous step towards in centralization. It would be an attempt on the part of the Senate sitting as a part of the executive branch of the government to interfere with and control the election in Virginia. It was an usurpation it was an invasion. It was in the strongest sense of the word, a revolutionary attempt by unlawful and illegitimate methods to control the free elections of the State in regard to matters solely submitted to its own cognizance, and control. The Senator strongly reiterated the Democratic views already expressed. He declared that the issue was repudiation. It was on the repudiating side of that issue that the Republican party in the Senate proposed to identify itself by choosing Riddleburger as one of its officers. It was to him to his doctrines that the Republicans stood committed and he believed he was right in preventing consummation of this act.

Mr. Sherman said the Senator from Delaware (Mr. Bayard) and he agreed upon the principle that a majority must rule. When the dictates of a minority went beyond a reasonable delay it became treason. Fifteen Senators could prevent the United States Senate from doing a single act and could break up the Government. Under the rules of the Senate this Government might be as absolutely destroyed as Southern Confederates would have destroyed it if they had succeeded. The rules were intended to be construed with reason and judgment. The doctrine of the right of the majority to rule must prevail.

Minorities had certain rights to interpose dilatory motions in order to delay and weary out the will of the majority, but when they passed those rights they entered upon dangerous grounds. He informed the other side that the Republicans of the Senate would cover Mahone with their shield and protect him with their strong arm. If Democrats attacked him they attacked Republicans. If the election of Riddleborger would strengthen the Republican party then the Republican Senators were justified in electing him. There was not a Democratic Senator who would not be governed by a political motive like that. To call it corrupt or dishonorable was to use a term that was totally unworthy. We said, we buy no man; we barter with no man; we have made promises to no man. There has been no promises made—no hope or expectation of reward—held out nothing that is corrupt. Our motives for entering into the movement are as patent as the day, as light as the sun and can be proclaimed from every housetop and every stump.

We gave our hand to the Senator from Virginia because we believe that we will thus advance public interests and break down that bitter spirit in the South, which has prevailed since the war. We believe that while extending our help and aid to these men in expressing their opinion even if we do not agree with that opinion, while siding them in defending themselves against ostracism of a great and powerful sectional party we are doing good to our country, and we propose to carry out that policy. In carrying out that policy we do more good to the South than we do to ourselves. Referring to the debt of Virginia, Mr. Sherman asserted that all the movements looking to repudiation had come from Democratic governments. The outcry against Riddlebarger, as being tainted with repudiation, could not come with a good grace from the Democratic party, which had been the author and promoter of every proposition of repudiation ever made in the United States.

Reverting to right of majority to prevail he declared that he appealed to the Senators on the Democratic side to allow the majority to proceed with the ordinary course of business. They might denounce the Republicans for their connection with the Senator from Virginia. The Republicans could take care of that. They might denounce them for voting for Mr. Riddlebarger, they could take care of that; but when they said that they would not let the majority go on with the public business, except as they should dictate, they put that majority in a position which they could not surrender without endangering the government. The majority must rule or there was in the country nothing but a Mexican Republic.

Mr. Burnside inquired what would be the action of the Democrats in case the Vice President should notify the Senate that he was going to New York for 48 hours? what would they do? Several Democrats—Let him go.

Mr. Burnside—Suppose we bring in a resolution for the election of a presiding officer.

Mr. Cockrell—We will meet that question when it comes.

Mr. Hoar, in answering a question propounded by Mr. McPherson, challenged any Senator on the other side to say that he would refuse to support for political office or to have a political alliance with anybody in the South, for the reason that he entertained opinions attributed to Mahone and Riddlebarger.

Mr. Bayard rose, and Mr. Hoar repeated his challenge.

Mr. Bayard—The Senator wants an answer and I will try and give it to him. If a man (I do not care whether he is a Democrat or a Republican) advocates the side of repudiation, and repudiation is made an issue, I would never support him.

Mr. Hoar—"If repudiation is made an issue," but suppose it is not an issue?

Mr. Bayard—But repudiation by the action of the Senator's party is made the issue.

Mr. Hoar—I deny it.

Mr. Bayard—And I affirm it.

Mr. Hoar—The difference between the Senator and me is that when assassination and fraud are the issue, he will ally himself with the repudiationist who stands for all these things and I will ally myself with the repudiationist who joins with me to put them down.

Mr. Bayard—The Senator forgets in the heat of the debate to give due respect to the motives of an opponent.

Mr. Hoar—I do not attribute motives; I deal with facts.

Mr. Bayard—Why does the Senator stand before the country and ally me in any way with dishonest and unfair political methods? Why should he do it?

Mr. Hoar—Because, whenever a party that performs these things at the South is in distress the Senator brings the weight of his own honorable and fair personal character to its rescue.

Mr. Bayard—I do not think that it is worth my while to deny that, and I have lived too long if it is necessary for me to deny it. The methods spoken of by the Senator have found in me as formidable an opponent so far as I am capable of being.

Mr. Hoar—The Senator thinks so, but I think he is alone in thinking so. I have never heard from a Southern Union man, black or white—I have never heard from a northern freedman, of any color, the Senator from Delaware reckoned among the saints of the church. Beware of the leaven of the Pharisee, which is hypocrisy.

Terrible Massacre of Chinamen in Peru.

LIMA, March 26. A war of races has broken out in the valley of Cantete, where more than 2900 Chinamen have been barbarously murdered by the negroes and Cholos. On one plantation 600 inoffensive men were murdered in cold blood. All the canefield, sugar-houses, machinery, etc., have been burned and destroyed, and property to the value of millions has been wrecked by these miscreants. All the foreigners have fled the valley, which is one of the most fertile and productive in Peru. Some of them have been killed. Full particulars are not yet at hand, as the work of murder and plunder is still going on. It is feared the adjacent valley of Chinchica will suffer next. The Chilians refuse to send troops to quell the disturbance. Mr. Henry Swayne is a heavy loser. A number of men and women and children sought refuge on board of a couple of vessels which were at anchor at Cerro Azul, and Mr. Swayne has chartered the steamer Ilo and sent her to that port to bring the refugees to Callao. It is feared similar scenes will be enated throughout Peru.

WASHINGTON.

A Good Beginning—A Saving in the Star Route of $223,019.

WASHINGTON, April 6. The first month's operations under Postmaster General James show a saving in the Star route steamboat service and mail messengers of $223,019. At this rate the saving in this one branch will amount to about $2,500,000 annually. This result is due to the order issued on the 12th of March forbidding any increase of expense in particular branches, except by special authority of the Postmaster General.

Commissions Issued to Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, April 6. The commissions of the following postmasters signed by the President were forwarded to-day: Thos. R. Jones, North Attleborough, Mass., and Henry Little, Auburn, Me.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Taunton is to Build a $100,000 City Hall.

TAUNTON, Mass., April 6. The City Government this evening appropriated $100,000 for the building of a new City Hall.

New England Methodist Conference.

WORCESTER, April 6. The regular Memorial service of the session of the New England Methodist Conference, was announced to occupy the afternoon, but in view of the unreadiness of the memoirs to be read in the case of deceased ministers, Rev. Dr. S. F. Upham delivered an interesting sermon, after which followed the anniversary exercises of the New England Educational Society. The evening services were devoted to Missions, Rev. G. F. Eaton, of Gloucester, preaching the annual conference sermon on this subject.

POLITICAL.

Election in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 6. The nearest approach to an official return of the vote cast at the municipal election yesterday gives Harrison, Democrat, 35,247; Clark, Republican, 27,734; majority for Harrison, 7,563. The Democrats elect the remainder of the city officers by smaller majorities and secure a majority of the town officers. The city council will be composed of 18 Republicans, 14 Democrats, 3 Socialists, 1 Independent Republican and 1 Independent Democrat.

A Republican Victory in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 6. Complete returns of the election show that a most remarkable revolution has taken place in the Democratic party.

Returns from all the precincts give the following for Mayor: Wm. L. Ewing, Republican, 24,608; Henry Overstoltz, Democrat, 11,353.

The remainder of the Republican ticket was elected by majorities of 12,000 to 16,000, and the six Republican members of the upper house of the municipal assembly receive majorities of 4500 to 5000.

This is not claimed as a straight Republican victory, but as the result of bitter contention among the Democrats, and of the opposition to Overstoltz on account of the manner in which he was nominated, by a large faction of that party.

Leadville Elects a Republican Mayor.

LEADVILLE, April 6. The city election yesterday resulted in the choice of Doughan, Republican, for Mayor, over Humphrey, Democrat, the present incumbent.

THE FAST OF INSANITY.

The Forty-Third Day.

IOWA CITY, Ia., April 6. The condition of Miss Hattie Deulle remains unchanged. This is the forty-third day of her fast. The city medical society passed a resolution disapproving of and denouncing the exhibition of her misfortunes and declaring those abetting the prolonged suicide of insane individuals should be held responsible in law. Her brother-in-law, a physician, says every means have been tried to break her fast and declares the resolution harsh and unjustified.

RHODE ISLAND.

State Election — Republican Ticket Elected.

PROVIDENCE, April 6. The State election occurred to-day without excitement. A very light vote was cast. The Republican ticket was elected as follows, by about 5060 majority: Governor, Alfred H. Littlefield; Lieut. Governor, Henry H. Fay; Secretary of State, Joshua M. Addeman; Attorney General, Williard Sayles; General Treasurer, Samuel Clark. The Senate comprises 29 Republicans and 5 Democrats with 2 vacancies. The House, 63 Republicans and 7 Democrats, 2 vacancies. A Republican gain of two in each House compared with last year. The Republicans gain 579 on the popular vote and the Democrats lose 2,202; the Prohibitionists lose 4417.

ARMY OF THE TENNESSEE.

Interesting Exercises.

CINCINNATI, April 6. The Society of the Army of the Tennessee marched this morning, ninety in number. General Sherman presided. Reports were read and also biographical sketches of members who have died the past year.

At the evening session the Society of the Army of the Tennessee, Gov. Foster made the welcoming address on behalf of the State. Speeches were also made by Gen. Sherman and Force. The Hall was densely packed with a brilliant audience.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

Geo. W. Curtis, who murdered Scott May two years ago, has been sentenced to hang at Clarksville, May 20.

Magdalena Miller, of New York, who recently became despondent from loss of money which was stolen from her, died yesterday of starvation.

Arferitin Tonalin, aged 36, French and unmarried, drowned herself in the canal at Springfield, Mass., last night. Probably crazy.

The steamer United States, ashore near Cape Romain has been abandoned. A portion of the cargo has been saved.

The Missouri river continues gorged at Yankton where the water has risen three feet during twenty-four hours. It is reported that over fifty lives were lost at Gayesville, Vermillion and Meckling.

THE WEATHER.

The trade for Western Cattle was more active than a week ago. Prices on all grades advanced ½ to ½c per pound over last market. The demand for shipping cattle has been fair. Many of the best grades of beeves were bought for English markets. The rise was caused more by the snow blockade at the west for the past week than from any scarcity of cattle at the West. As soon as cattle come in more plentifully, probably prices will not be so firm as this week.

Working Oxen in fair demand. We quote sales of one pair, girth 6 feet and 7 inches, live weight, 3500 pounds, $118.

Mr. Gray has a sprained ankle and was otherwise badly shaken up, and Williams had his side injured.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE WOMAN'S CRUSADE. The eighth annual meeting for the choice of officers of the Woman's Crusade was held yesterday afternoon and resulted in the re-election, by an unanimous vote, of Mrs. Crossman as President. Ever since the organization of the above Society Mrs. Croseman has been its presiding officer, and her re-election for the eighth time is certainly a pleasing testimonial of the regard and esteem in which she is held by her associates. The Crusade is composed of some one hundred and fifty ladies, and the continued confidence in her efficiency and firmness of purpose, as manifested at the meeting yesterday, must be to her an incentive to renewed efforts in her chosen work of "lifting the fallen" and encouraging weak and unfortunate men to "dare to do right."

THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC. In connection with the sale of seats for entertainments at the new Academy of Music, an arrangement will be proposed which if adopted will be of great advantage to stockholders, and will tend to create a demand for the stock which will render it salable at any time after the completion of the building. By this arrangement stockholders will have a choice of seats to every entertainment, one day in advance of the regular sale, thus obviating for them the unpleasantness of all night's attendance, either in person or by representative, to procure desirable seats for any great attraction, as is now the case. We are happy to state that the subscription list is being daily enlarged by considerable amounts, and it is believed that before the day fixed for the meeting of the subscribers to form a legal organization, the sum will reach the handsome figure of $25,000, an amount sufficient to erect a building according to the original plans of the architect, which will be in every respect the handsomest and most convenient building devoted to amusement purposes in the State.

SANDY POINT—I. O. G. T. "M." writes as follows: Progressive Lodge, I. O. G. T., No. 26, on Tuesday evening, threw open wide its doors, to friends and foe alike, hoping that many who have held aloof might be induced to become one of us after seeing how interesting our meetings can be made. The W. C. called the meeting to order, and the W. F. S. called the roll of officers. One or two matters of business were disposed of. The Secretary's report of the preceding meeting was read and approved. Each member was then called by name and responded with a sentiment relating to temperance. Reading, by Miss Josie French, "The Wedding Fee," which was rendered in a very pleasing manner. Then followed the query box. The questions were passed alike to members and visitors. The answering and discussing of the questions was voted by all to be very interesting. A short recess was taken, during which nearly all present participated in a march. At the tap of a bell carried by our W. S. the gentlemen stepped forward and changed partners. After recess, an hour or more was occupied with a "Trial by Jury." A breach of promise case was tried in legal form. The lawyers, Henry D. Black and George S. Perkins, plead ably and eloquently for their clients. Then our worthy judge, Frank L. Blanchard, submitted the case to the jury; they retired to the anteroom and in a short time brought in a verdict of "defendant not guilty," much to the joy of that gentleman who had been suffering untold anguish for fear he should lose the case and the $10,000 consequent therefrom. Passing round of apples, furnished by members of the order, closed the evening's entertainment. Our Lodge is yet few in numbers. We organized with eleven members and we have now but twenty-seven. The worthy people of the place have not taken such an interest in the cause of temperance as we had hoped they would, but we do not propose to be discouraged. We have four new members enrolled for our next meeting. Slowly, but surely, they are coming in with us.

GRAND BRASS BAND TOURNAMENT. A grand band tournament is announced to take place at Lake Maranacook, Winthrop, Me., July 6th, 1881, in which all the bands in the State are to participate. Some of the best business men in the State are interested in the tournament, thereby assuring it success and the prompt payment of prizes, the number and amount of which will be made public soon. Impartiality in awarding the prizes will be guaranteed, as some of the best band leaders in Massachusetts will officiate as judges and distribute the awards which will be of such a number and amount as to well repay the winner of even the lowest one. Tickets to and from the Lake will be furnished free to all bands who apply to the managers. Trains will be run at very low rates to accommodate all who may wish to attend. During the day the bands will consolidate, and perform several pieces. It is confidently believed that the united bands will number more than a thousand musicians. Opportunities for dancing, swinging, boating and other amusements will be provided for all. Communications addressed to Frank L. Collins, Portland, Me., will receive prompt attention.

"REST, SPIRIT, REST."

Funeral of Mrs. Lucy A. Boutelle.

The funeral rites of the late Mrs. Lucy A. Boutelle, yesterday afternoon, were observed at the residence of her son, Capt. C. A. Boutelle, No. 59 Broadway, in the presence of a large assemblage of our citizens who by their presence in the house of mourning, sought to pay a silent tribute to the memory of the deceased, and to manifest toward the bereaved family that deep sympathy which may not be expressed in words.

The services, which were of a most impressive character and beautifully appropriate, were conducted by the Rev. Dr. G. W. Field and Prof. J. S. Sewall. After the reading of appropriate Scriptural passages by Dr. Field, Prof Sewall said that he was present to pay his tribute to the character and virtues of the honored wife and mother who had been taken away. It was perhaps fitting that he should do so, as he had some reminiscences to contribute which none others could. The families had been neighbors while residing in Brunswick, and he had known her manner of life there, and the womanly spirit in which she had borne both prosperity and adversity. In the prime of her girlhood his venerable father had married her to her young sailor husband, and when after many years the husband was suddenly taken away, it had been the speaker's sad duty to perform the last funeral rites for him, as now he was called upon to assist in doing for her. In the long separations of sailor life, he could testify that she discharged the added duties and responsibilities of the home and family with a gentle firmness and courageous spirit which were worthy of all praise. When a sudden and crushing blow fell upon her in the death of her husband in 1870, he could bear his personal testimony that she endured the suffering with that serene patience and fortitude which belong to a matured character. The speaker alluded to her early religious experience, her tender affection for her children, and the interest she felt in all their different spheres of labor. It was occasion for both pleasure and gratitude that her tender devotion was fully reciprocated, and that the children had been enabled to watch over her last years with an affectionate care answering to that maternal love which she had lavished upon them from their infancy. He expressed the deep sympathy of the friends present for the family in their sorrow, and urged that the lesson of death should teach us all "so to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."

At the close of Prof. Sewall's remarks, the Rev. Dr. Field, recognizing that "prayer moves the hand that moves the universe," offered up a most fervent and pathetic petition to God—to Him "who giveth and who taketh away"—rejoicing in the thought that the pure spirit of the deceased had joined the loved ones who had earlier exchanged mortality for immortality, and asking that the Comforter might visit the afflicted and give them strength to bear their burden of sorrow. The singing by the choir was tenderly sad, appropriate, and feelingly rendered. A benediction was pronounced by Prof. Sewall.

The floral offerings were beautiful and profuse, and were tributes of friends of the deceased. A floral pillow, beautiful in design, and composed of the choicest exotic and native flowers,—in the centre of which was the single word "Mother,"—rested at the head of the casket. The floral tributes seemed to us emblematic of the purity of the life of that mother whose endearing title had been thus written in the "alphabet of the angels."

The remains, accompanied by Edward P. Boutelle, a son of the deceased, will be taken to Brunswick to-day for interment.

AMUSEMENTS.

Richelieu To-night.

Mr. Lawrence Barrett and company will arrive on the Pullman train this morning. To-night Bulwer's "Richelieu" will be presented in Norombega Hall. The large advance sale of seats indicates a crowded and fashionable house. Good seats may be secured during the day. Mr. Barrett's impersonation of "Richelieu" in Portland, Monday evening, received unanimous praise from the newspaper critics. At times during the evening, the enthusiasm was so great that the actor of the play was stopped for several minutes.

"EDGEWOOD FOLKS."

Seats for the performance next Monday evening by Sol Smith Russell and company, may be secured at Bugbee's to-morrow morning. The following is from the New York Tribune:

The Park Theatre opened last night and was densely crowded. Mr. Sol Smith Russell and his theatrical company came forward on this occasion in a piece entitled "Edgewood Folks," written by Mr. J. E. Brown, of Boston, a journalist, and the author of many sketches. "Edgewood" is the name of a New England village, and "Folks" are some of its inhabitants. The action of the play concerns itself with the experience of a young clergyman settled in Edgewood, whom certain wicked schemers endeavored to despoil of a magnificant inheritance, and whose fortunes are defended and saved through the counter-plots of a devoted friend—the latter character being assumed by Mr. Sol Smith Russell, who takes on several disguises and exhibits ingenuity and zeal, together with a clever talent for eccentric impersonation. The qualities that impress and attract in this gentleman's acting are sincerity, amiability, tenderness, and playful humor. He has repose, also, and he finished his embodiments with smoothness and bold effort. He moves nimbly through the play and lights it up, and was received and rewarded with abundant and emphatic public approval. The tone of the comedy is cheerful, wholesome, and light, and as treated by Mr. Russell will evidently be made the medium of diffusing innocent pleasure among large audiences throughout the entire country.

NOTES.

Andrews' full orchestra will furnish the music to-night.

Miss Maude Forrester as "Mazeppa" is booked in Norombega for next Tuesday evening.

The meeting of stockholders in the new Academy of Music, for organization, has been called for Monday evening, 18th inst. It is hoped to commence active building operations soon after May first.

E. Society, to-morrow evening; a carriage shawl found; also the usual number of legal notices on estates of deceased persons.

The following communication is respectfully referred to those whose duty it is to enforce our city ordinances:

BANGOR, April 6th.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

I would like to inquire through your columns if there is any means by which our street corners can be kept clear of loafers? All the principal corners on our down town streets are filled by a mob, smoking short pipes and blocking sidewalk, and doorways, making it impossible for a lady to pass without forcing her way through this crowd. It seems to us that it is about time something was done to remove this nuisance, which is a disgrace to a city the size of Bangor. BUSINESS.

Maine's Medical School.

The Portland Press editorially discourses upon that venerable institution, the Maine Medical School, as follows:

"The Medical School of Maine is now on its sixty-first annual course, and more students are in attendance at its lectures this spring than ever before. From its establishment, over half a century ago when less than a dozen pupils gathered in the miniature amphitheatre in old Massachusetts Hall, down to this time when over a hundred find accommodations in the capacious lecture rooms of Adams Hall, the institution has been noteworthy. It always kept well abreast of the times. Of late it has forged ahead of its fellow schools.

"There is in the country to-day but one medical school whose entrance examination is so rigid. There is not one whose final examination surpasses it in intelligence and conscientious thoroughness. It is well-equipped, its library is large, its anatomical and pathological collections extensive, and its recitation and operating rooms admirably arranged. Above all, its faculty consists of thoroughly trained students and able practitioners. Even in the matter of clinics, where it has been supposed to be weakest, it is well to the front. At one clinic the last session of the school, sixty-three patients presented themselves for treatment in the medical and surgical departments, and the average was fifty.

"The school has been brought up to its present high state of efficiency by the arduous and incessant efforts of its faculty, aided by the active and intelligent sympathy of the medical profession throughout the State. The intent has been to advance the standard of medical education. The result at first was to reduce the number of students. Men went to schools where no entrance examination was required, and where the final examination was made easy. To an institution largely dependent upon tuition fees the loss of pupils was serious. Men found it hard to get into and hard to get out of, and so went elsewhere. But the management persisted in its good work. In time people began to recognize the fact that a diploma from the Maine Medical School meant something; that it was a valuable thing and an evidence that its possessor was a good student, well-grounded in his profession and having practical knowledge of it. The result is that the attendance has steadily increased of late, and that this year the number of students is larger than ever before. Every State in New England is represented.

"It is a pleasure, as well as a duty, to acknowledge the benefit the institution has been to the community in raising the standard of medical knowledge and in requiring of those to whom it grants its diplomas a thorough training in the theory of their profession, considerable empirical knowledge of it, and a respectable share of general information. The increasing success of the school—which suggested this article—is altogether agreeable to contemplate."

MAINE NEWS.

Hop Bitters, which are advertised in our columns, are a sure cure for ague, biliousness and kidney complaints. Those who use them say they cannot be too highly recommended. Those afflicted should give them a fair trial, and will become thereby enthusiastic in the praise of their curative qualities.—Portland Argus.

THE POWER OF THE PRESS.

In no way is the power of the press more surely shown than in the universal knowledge that has in less than a year, been diffused throughout fifty millions of people of the wonderful curative properties of that splendid remedy Kidney-Wort. And the people from the Atlantic to the Pacific have shown their intelligence and their knowledge of what is in the papers, by already making Kidney-Wort their household remedy for all diseases of the kidneys, liver and bowels.—Herald. d&w 1w apr2

CUTICURA

Miracles of Healing Unparelleled in Medical History.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the great natural blood purifier, absorbent, renovator and vitalizer, has shown its grand curative power in scrotula, white swellings, ulcers, erysipelas, swelled neck, scrofulous inflammations, mercurial affections, old sores, eruptions of the skin, sore eyes and scalp affections, with dry, thin and falling hair; and when the CUTICURA, a Medicinal Jelly, and the CUTICURA SOAP, prepared from it, are applied to external symptoms, the cures affected by the CUTICURA REMEDIES are marvellous.

SCROFULA.

SCROFULA.—Hon. William Taylor, Boston, State Senator of Massachusetts, permanently cured of a humor of the face and scalp that had been treated unsuccessfully for twelve years by many of Boston's best physicians and most noted specialists, as well as European authorities. He says: "I have been so elated with my successful use of the Cuticura Remedies that I have stopped men in the streets to tell them of my case."

RUNNING SORES.

RUNNING SORES. Henry Landecker, Dover, N. H., certifies that Aug. 23, 1877, he broke his leg. The bone was set by a physcian. Upon removing the splints sores broke out from the knee to the heel. Doctors called them varicose veins, and ordered rubber stockings. Paid $25 for stockings, without any signs of cure. Bought CUTICURA REMEDIES and was rapidly and permanently cured. Certified to by Lothrops & Pinkham, Druggists, Dover, N. H.

SALT RHEUM.

SALT RHEUM.—Geo. F. Owen, Dealer in Pianos, Grand Rapids, Mich., was troubled for nine years with Salt Rheum. Tried every medicine known to the trade, and was attended by many physicians with only temporary relief. Cured by CUTICURA REMEDIES.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by WEEKS & POTTER, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington St., Boston, and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, a Medicinal Jelly, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, $1. CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, $1 per bottle; CUTICURA MEDICINAL TOILET SOAP, 25 cents. CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS.

These Pills have met with the most Remarkable Success as is attested by the Immense Sales they have Attained.

Parsons, Bangs & Co., have had Eighteen Hundred Dozens the Past Year.

Hundreds have testified to the Benefit they have derived from their use in the cure of Sick Headache, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Nervousness, Paralysis, Sleeplessness and Indigestion.

It is a Fully Established Fact, Based on Actual Experience, and There is No Kind of Doubt but They Will Cure These Diseases.

DR. C. W. BENSON'S CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS are prepared expressly to cure Sick Headache, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Nervousness, Paralysis, Sleeplessness and Indigestion or Dyspepsia, and will cure any case, no matter how obstinate, if properly used. They are not a cure-all, but only for those special diseases. They contain no opium, morphine or quinine, and are not a purgative, but regulate the bowels and cures constipation by curing or removing the cause of it. They have a charming effect upon the skin, and a lovely, quieting effect upon the nervous system, simply by feeding its ten thousand hungry, yes, in some cases starving absorbants. They make or create nerve matter and give power, force and buoyancy to the nerves, and in that way increase mental force, endurance and brilliancy of mind. Nobody that has a nervous system should neglect to take them two or three months in each year, simply as a nerve food, if for no other purpose. FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

CONSUMPTION.

Owing to a popular idea that a remedy said to cure a variety of maladies should be treated with caution, if not suspicion, the inventor hesitated some time in placing it before the public; but from the gratifying assurance by a great number of the rare vitalizing and health-renewing properties of his preparation of Hypophosphites, under a variety of circumstances, he is equally satisfied that these effects are secured by its use, that its action is peculiar to his preparation, and that CONSUMPTION is not only CURABLE, but, up to a certain stage, is as easily controlled as most other organic diseases.

* * * * * * * *

While it is the aim of the inventor to convey information to such as require his Hypophosphites, it is his firm belief that its use will be valuable to all who desire a long life or who are struggling for health.

"With a faith based upon the experience of twelve years, he would not despair of restoring a patient suffering from the above-named disease, even though reduced to a very low state and not complicated by actual organic loss.

FLINT, MICH., May 10th, 1880.

Dear Sir—Allow me to say that I esteem your "Hypophosphites" most highly, and for those engaged in professions which draw largely on the nervous system it is invaluable. I have used it myself with the most satisfactory results and have introduced it to a large number of my people.

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window,) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

KIDNEY-WORT

This Great Remedy

In either Liquid or Dry Form acts at the same time on the diseases of the Liver, Bowels and Kidneys,

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

WHY ARE WE SICK?

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

BILIOUSNESS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESS, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS, by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Bilious pains and aches!
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation!
Why frightened over disordered Kidneys!
Why endure nervous or sick headaches!
Why have sleepless nights!

Use KIDNEY-WORT and rejoice in health

It is put up in Dry Vegetable Form, in tin cans one package of which makes six quarts of medicine.

Also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated, for the convenience of those that cannot readily prepare it. It acts with equal efficiency in either form.

R. H. EDDY, ESQ.—Dear Sir: you procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.
